From the Classroom
We have been fortunate enough to be chosen to participate in a DECD project looking at how students learn and what this means for how we teach as well as what we teach. Also participating in the pilot project are Mypolonga, Tailem Bend, and Jervois Primary Schools, as well as Murray Bridge High School. This week some of our students were interviewed about how they think they best learn and what they know about themselves as learners. You will hear more about this project as it develops.

Rockarama Assistance
It is not too late to offer assistance for Rockarama next term (weekend of 3rd and 4th May). We would still appreciate any help you are able to offer in the way of assisting at the hall on the days or with preparation of salads for the Sunday night’s tea.

Torrens Valley Football Club
For parents of any children interested in playing Modified Junior Football for Torrens Valley FC (Under 8, 9 or 10 years), there will be a meeting at the Mount Torrens Oval on 27th March at 5.30 pm.

Book Fair
If you have any books on order from the Scholastic Book Fair this week, we hope to have them to you as soon as they arrive.

Truro Performance - ‘Flushed’
Please remember to get those permission slips back to school for this performance. (Please note: 8.30am start to school on that day)

Naming jumpers
It is now quite cool in the mornings and lots of children are wearing jumpers to school, that they take off later as the day warms up. It greatly increases the chances of returning clothing to its rightful owner if it is clearly named.

BlazeAid support
BlazeAid camp moved to Angaston this week. Again, I thank the families who donated ingredients for the students to use in their cake making efforts. Thankyou to Faye, too, who co-ordinated the baking, and who donated a lot of her own.

Crazy Hair Day
Thank you to all of you who supported the PSC’s Crazy Hair Day today. The students had a lot of fun.

Have a great weekend and take care! Regards, Lynne
